

Mommys Hats

A month before Sally Zueber turned five years old, her mother was diagnosed with breast cancer. Rather than hide the tragic circumstances from her young daughter, Sally's mother Rhonda decided to be open and honest about her ordeal. At each stage of her cancer treatment, Rhonda explained to Sally exactly what she was going through. She also allowed Sally to ask questions and make honest and innocent comments about her mother's cancer and treatment. The result is a collection of inspirational true stories over a one-year period that reveals a loving child's perspective on a very serious family crisis.
