

Remembering: A Novel

It is 1976 and Andy Catlett, farmer and agricultural journalist, is walking the streets of San Francisco at dawn. In the eight months since losing his right hand to a corn-picking machine, he has also lost himself. Two thousand miles from his home in Kentucky, he begins to remember people, the land, and the comfort of knowing his place intimately. Andys reveries evoke a membership governed by the principles of humanity and love. Inspiring and eye-opening, Remembering follows Andys journey out of darkness and into the warm light of community.
